PREMO HARDWARE STORE VICTIM OF DARING ROBBERY

SIX REVOLVERS VALUED AT $150 AND $4 IN CASH REPORTED TAKEN.

PUSHOUT TRANSOM Entrance Made Over Top of Front Door in Full View of North Main Street.

A lone robber with plenty of nerve and agility entered Premo Brothers hardware and sporting goods store, 21 North Main street, early today, making a clean cut with a knife of the best revolver in stock and $4 in cash. Several of the cheaper class revolvers were passed up by the intruder who evidently was a good judge of firearms. The retail value of the guns aggregates $150.

The boldness of the robber or robbers, there may have been two, astonished police. Within a block of the city's business center and in full view of passersby on North Main street, he had the daring to force his way through the front entrance.

Were New Yorkers?

The holding about the show window and the door formed a step ladder for the intruder to climb up, push out the transom, and climb through. The transom, held in place by two missing nails, fell to the floor and was found in pieces this morning. After going through the gun showcase, the thief made his exit through the rear door, jumping 10 feet to the river bank below. Twelve of the new buyers' gun collection of this season were taken.

This is the first robbery on the east side in months.

"They have been trying to get in our place for the past eight years without success," said last night, said Premo today.

In response to questions from the police, Mr. Premo said no youngsters have been hanging around there. He furnished Chief Merriam with a description of a man who came in to look at guns Monday and went away without buying.

The Loot

Premo Brothers gave the following as the weapons and cash taken: One .32 calibre Colt automatic; one .32 calibre Colt revolver; one .32 Colt revolver with a 5-inch barrel; one .32 Colt revolver with a 5-inch barrel; and a .38 Colt police pistol.

Howling of Dog Leads Lost Balloonists to Safe Landing in Far North

(By Associated Press.)

Hearst, Ont., Jan. 5.—Tales of terrible hardships endured with utmost fortitude by the three stranded American naval balloonists from Rockaway, N. Y., in the frozen wastes of the Canadian north, were related here today by Indian trappers arriving from the lower Hudson Bay district.

Their stories corroborated reports from Cochrane that the airman were near starvation and were forced to eat their two remaining carrier pigeons to keep alive. The men are slowly winding their way back to civilization by dog sled with the thermometer 30 degrees below zero. They should reach Kingston today. A Pullman coach will be placed at their disposal when they leave the trail there.

Men in Good Health.

The men are in good health and spirits, the trappers say, with the exception of one, S. A. Farrell, who suffered from frost bite and shock.

According to the Indians, the howling of a moose dog caught in a trap at Shipaship, the northern trading post of the Hudson Bay company, was responsible for the safety of the airman last Sunday. When they heard the dog's cries, the balloonists decided to land. The giant balloon struck in a clump of trees 10 miles south of the post, and its occupants were almost stripped of their clothing in the perilous descent.

At the time of landing the mercury was only ten degrees below zero. When the men, exhausted themselves from the wreckage, the first words were uttered: "Thank you, thank you, thank you." The balloonists, who had been in the air for 10 days, extended "gracious thanks" to the Almighty for their existence.

Thankful to Dog.

The airman next expressed thanks to the unfortunate dog whose howls caused them to descend. For almost 40 hours the Americans had floated in the sky.

KENTUCKY TOBACCO MEN TO GET TOGETHER ON MARKET STRIKE

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—Following the closing yesterday of Lexington and other tobacco markets because of low prices offered by buyers, tobacco men in the central Kentucky district today waited the outcome of meetings in every county in the district tomorrow and the general mass meeting of representatives of growers, bankers and warehouse men here Friday.

A few minor markets were to open today, while the larger ones suspended their operations with the agreement that they would stay closed for a week. Tobacco farmers declared that to accept the low prices offered would mean ruin. A Pullman coach is being made to induce every market in the district to close and the proposal has been made by some prominent growers that the strike be continued until the price is raised to $1.00 a pound. In this way, they believe, farmers can be induced to reduce or cut out the 1921 crop and thus compel manufacturers to pay higher prices for the leaf already gathered.

IMPORTANT RULE ON INCOME TAX REPORTS IS MADE

BOUND TO RELIEVE BUSINESS MEN EVERYWHERE ON MAKING RETURNS.

OLD AND NEW COST

Technical Complications Are Explained in Reference to Retail Stocks.

(By DAVID LAWRENCE, Copyright 1920 by the Janesville Gazette.)

Washington, Jan. 5.—Business men throughout the United States are breathing easier as a result of two decisions by the treasury department with reference to income taxes but they should bear in mind a warning which officials of the government are expressing informally, namely, that unless the public gets the benefit of the same prices as are put on income tax blanks, there will be no relief for them.

Losses Against Business.

The ruling of the treasury department is bound to relieve business men everywhere for thousands of them are protesting by letter and telegram against existing regulations and argued that in view of the abnormal conditions, they should be permitted in a way to charge the cost of loss against last year's business.

The treasury department took the matter under advisement and has ruled that under the last year's regulations, a business man is permitted to deduct the actual market value of the goods on hand. This means that the government will not exact as income money that is not exact as income money.

Illustrating the Point.

Because the terms of the ruling are technical and rather complicated, it can best be understood by an illustration.

If a merchant had on hand $5,000 worth of goods on Dec. 31, 1919, or at any rate, if he had $5,000 worth of goods on hand at the end of the year, and he had $3,000 in goods in stock, that item is used as a basis for the calculations. Thus if during the year 1920 he bought more goods for $12,000, he would have $17,000 worth of goods on hand at the end of the year. In most instances the selling prices have fallen below actual cost. What is the market value of his goods on hand. Supposing in this instance, that prices have shrunk so that the market value of his goods is only $3,000. The merchant can deduct $3,000 from $17,000 and the remainder of $14,000 becomes the cost of his goods. Then if he received $20,000 for the goods, he would have a net profit of $6,000. His actual profit on which taxes would be paid would be the difference between the cost, $3,000, and the sales, $10,000, or $7,000. Similarly, he could subtract it from the cost of $3,000 and show a loss of $2,000 and pay no taxes whatever.

What the market value means is, therefore, in the ruling is market price. What does the term mean? Every merchant will have to make his own estimate, but naturally he thinks

State in Battle to Show Lynaugh Shot to Kill Youth

Scores of Student Witnesses Agree on Details of Tragic Events of the May Night—Jandorf's Parents at the Trial.

(By Lewis C. French.)

Jefferson, Jan. 5.—From the mass of testimony submitted today comes evidence determining whether Mathew Lynaugh, Madison patrolman, succeeds in his desperate fight to avert conviction for first degree murder.

State's Attorney John Baker today brought every effort to bear from a long list of student witnesses to show that Lynaugh purposely killed Carl Jandorf, university student, in Madison on May 28. The scene of the shooting was situated in the old stone court house built in 1830, and the jury, which was selected from a list of names drawn from the city directory, was sworn in at 10 o'clock.

Each day the court room is packed with standing room at a premium. In the old stone court house built in 1830, excitement is tense. Mathew Lynaugh is on trial for murder. That word "murder" is a magic expression among the townsmen.

Court Room.

Farmers come from all parts of the county, bringing their families, to see the trial. The jury, which was selected from a list of names drawn from the city directory, was sworn in at 10 o'clock.

Even the high school classes were dismissed for the afternoon so that students could hear a part of the trial. The jury, which was selected from a list of names drawn from the city directory, was sworn in at 10 o'clock.

It is much like a "movie" to the citizens of Jefferson county. Many of the students who are witnesses are students of law. Consequently they are quite prone to offer advice and make suggestions as to how the case should be tried and explain the probable verdict. The student attitude is decidedly bitter against the patrolman.

ONLY 35 STUDENTS AROUND LYNAUGH WHEN HE SHOT

(Special to the Gazette.)

Jefferson, Jan. 5.—Two student witnesses, J. E. Wolfe and R. V. Wolf, who were on the stand by the state this morning, their testimony was founded on the fact they were in the collection of students which followed Lynaugh as he had just left the court house.

Wolfe on the stand expressed an opinion that the crowd which pressed around Lynaugh before the shooting was made up of about 35 students and a number of townsfolk. The testimony on the size of the crowd following the patrolman and which congregated around him when Jandorf interfered, the students shot from the student throng.

Miss Esther Burke, the fair co-ed from Iowa, who saw Jandorf shot down while standing across the street, is on the stand at the moment.

The testimony was marked by sharp cross-examination by Attorney J. M. Cline, attorney for the defense. The defense is seeking to bring out an increased number of students and in detail more of the taunts and alleged threats uttered against Lynaugh.

The meeting of the convention is expected to be the next event of the year. The police had been notified of the several delegations. Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy, who testified Tuesday, had given orders to the desk sergeant to have the bear officers bring to the station the students who stole the barber pole. The desk sergeant communicated this order to Lynaugh, patrolling the campus then.

The truck described by the headquarters officer, Lynaugh started to the campus on a half run, according to the testimony. The students seeing him started to run. He was running when he was shot. The last of the students who stole the barber pole or ripped off

O'CALLAGHAN HELD PRISONER; KIN OF MAC SWINEY FREE

IRISH OFFICIAL DETAINED AT NEWPORT NEWS; LACKS PASSPORT. VISIT IS MYSTERY

Purpose of Trip to America Kept Silent Awaiting Developments.

(By Associated Press.)

Newport News, Va., Jan. 5.—Continuing silence as to the purpose of his visit to the United States, Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who with Pats J. MacSwiney of New York, brother of the late Terence MacSwiney, arrived here late yesterday as stowaways on the American steamer West Cannon, was awaiting today a ruling from the immigration authorities at Washington which will decide whether he is to be permitted to enter this country. Mr. MacSwiney, who had a bona fide passport, was free to leave at will, but announced his intention of remaining with the lord mayor until his status was cleared up.

Both stowaways were arrested on arrival of the steamer from Ireland, but Mac Swiney was released and O'Callaghan permitted to proceed to a hotel where he is under surveillance. Pending disposition of his case the lord mayor refused to discuss his presence here, but Mac Swiney volunteered the information that the Irish official came to the United States at the invitation of the Committee of One Hundred at Washington which is investigating the Irish situation.

Mac Swiney explained the British authorities had refused to permit O'Callaghan to visit America and that it was necessary to stowaway on some steamer to reach the United States. He said he could have come home on a passenger ship but preferred to accompany the lord mayor. Both had hoped to reach New York, where their presence was known, as friends there were expected to arrange details of their entry.

Mac Swiney left New York to visit his brother, who then was starting himself to return to Ireland. The stowaway also was made as a stowaway and without an American passport.

Came to Testify.

O'Callaghan declared that the officers of the New York Nation had invited him to testify before the commission of the Committee of One Hundred at Washington investigating the Irish situation. The statement was in answer to that of Frederick C. Howe, chairman of the commission, who said last night the mayor had not been asked to appear before the committee.

The invitation was extended by the New York people several months ago, Mayor O'Callaghan said.

The average rate of taxation in the town is 12 1/2 mills in the village of 25 mills and in the city 25 mills. The town of Janesville is the lowest with a rate of 12 mills and Belknap city, the highest 30 mills. Included in the county taxes is a highway tax of $197,897.85. STUDENT'S SWEAR LYNNAUGH SHOT TO KILL

To leave and was chased by the patrolman who had drawn his 38 calibre Colt automatic police revolver. Lynnaugh ran across the campus and was followed by the patrolman. The student ducked into a fraternity house. The defendant followed and made the arrest on the front porch of the house.

Grand Jury Officer.

Students saw the fracas and soon gathered. "Witnesses saw Lynnaugh had the revolver in his hand all during the time. When the patrolman started taking Lynnaugh down the street—thinking he was implicated in the theft—a number of students and civilians followed. They pressed within 20 or 25 feet of Lynnaugh who was grasping the student Lynnaugh with one hand and carrying his gun in the other. Twice the patrolman stopped and waving the gun back and forth, warned the student following him, "To stay back." They persisted in following and then Lynnaugh is alleged to have dropped in close behind Lynnaugh, leading Lynnaugh. As the patrolman turned street corner Lynnaugh, the testimony shows, stopped and again warned the crowd following "To keep back."

Jandorf Interferes.

After turning the campus corner, the evidence is that Jandorf, the slain youth, stepped up to Lynnaugh and placed his hand on the student's shoulder with the statement, "You have got the wrong fellow." The student testimony is that Lynnaugh turned around, still holding on to Lynnaugh and his right hand raised the gun and struck Lynnaugh across the face with the flat of his hand and the butt of the gun. At the same time several witnesses saw Lynnaugh kick Jandorf, exclaiming, "Keep out of this."

Strikes Patrolman.

When struck on the head by the officer, Jandorf recoiled a few feet and then launched a hard blow which caught the officer full in the mouth. Three witnesses state that Lynnaugh then reached forward with his right hand, which had the gun, and fired. Jandorf lurched forward a few steps, staggered and dropped dead.

taking Lynnaugh to the station and two students took Jandorf to the university medical clinic where he was pronounced dead. "Was Crowd a Mob?" Dispute is raised over the number of students who followed Lynnaugh after making the arrest. Some say not more than 12 or 14 at the start. Another declared there were about 35 around at the scene of the shooting, the crowd increasing as Lynnaugh led Lynnaugh down the street. There is a variation of testimony on the taunts, threats and prank statements made by the student crowd directed against Lynnaugh.

Girl Witness Today.

Miss Esther Burke, Iowa student, who saw the shooting from across the street, was the main witness called by the state during the day. She told about the same story, but not in such details as the students forming the alleged "mob," following Lynnaugh from the campus.

Much of the testimony is being centered on whether Lynnaugh "pointed" or aimed the gun at Jandorf after being hit by the student. Also the time is important, for the defense will present claims that the discharge of the gun was not intended, but that the defendant only intended to "scare the students" into submission.

State to Test Friday.

The state will close their testimony probably Friday morning. There are 14 witnesses on the list of the defense, including Ray Hemmery, Morris Hemmery, Arthur M. Rogers, Michael Lockwood, Ernest Spitt, Jacob Dehrens, Charles O'Neil, John J. Bleed, John F. Jeko, Paul Esser and Charles Nelson.

In backing up their claim of accidental discharge the defense will attempt to show the treachery and defects of an automatic revolver. Lockwood will testify it is believed, that one of the guns similar to the weapon from which the fatal shot was fired was fired, nearly killed a patrolman in the police station in Madison recently, going off accidentally.

Type of Weapon.

The type of gun has two safety devices. One is a cut in which slips in a lock near the end of the false barrel. The other is in the grip. If the lock catch is out of the safety groove, then the gun can be discharged when the trigger is pulled. Lynnaugh in his testimony is expected to swear that he did not know the first safety was off.

The deliberate pointing of the gun is of utmost importance in relation to the accidental discharge. The defense will allege prejudice on the part of the student testimony.

Was Chose Enough? An issue before the jury is the opinion of whether a collection of students should be treated with more consideration in their college pranks and "pranks" than the law allows. It is established that Jandorf was walking ahead of the alleged mob of students following and taunting Lynnaugh. There is also a legal question of the right of Lynnaugh to make the arrest and whether the fact that Jandorf struck the defendant constitutes sufficient cause for the patrolman to use his weapon even to threaten.

19 Eggs A Day From 23 Hens, In Winter

Mr. Duni's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan Is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don's we got 19 eggs a day; in three weeks, we were getting 20 to 22 a day; in five weeks we got 25 eggs a day."—John Duni, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Duni started giving Don Sung in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in winter when hens usually loaf. A trial costs nothing.

Get your Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry supply dealer. Send for circular, write for a package by mail prepaid. Rust-Not-Digger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Baker Flies to Get Train Home

To catch by airplane a train which he had missed, was the novel experience of John P. Baker, proprietor of the Baker-Hite bakery here while at Wabash, Ind.

George Pirck, of the Service Motor Co. agency here, went with Mr. Baker to Wabash, Ind., where their factory is located, and sold Mr. Baker five tickets. They missed the train on which they had intended to return to Janesville and were taken by airplane to Logansport where they caught it.

The Service Motor company maintains 12 planes to deliver parts to customers of the company within a radius of 1,000 miles.

PAVILION BOOSTERS MAY BUY TEMPORARY SITE ON PLEASANT ST.

The stock pavilion committee appointed at the banquet of incorporated parties held in December, is considering buying a building on Pleasant street which would be used for immediate needs, it was announced at the Chamber of Commerce today.

Several are of the opinion that a building nearer the center of Janesville would prove more profitable than at the fairgrounds which has been proposed. One of the advantages of having the pavilion at the fairgrounds is that the stock pens are available. No definite action has been taken.

WILL ELECT THREE TO BUILDING ASS'N.

Annual Meeting Called for January 17.—First Dividends Now Being Paid.

Stockholders of the $5,000.000 Janesville Building and Loan association will hold their first annual meeting here January 17, a week from this coming Monday. It was announced by J. P. Hammelund, secretary. Three directors will be elected. Directors whose terms expire at that time are:

Edward Buss, M. P. Richardson, S. C. Richardson.

The corporation is now composed of 121 stockholders representing 2001 shares of stock, or $200,100. One vote will be allowed for each share of stock. There are 125 installment stockholders and 50 of the paid-up class. More are wanted.

Six Loans Made.

Organized for business less than a year ago, the association has made loans approximating $22,300 enabling six people not able financially otherwise to build homes here. Greater activity is planned for 1921, according to Mr. Hammelund.

Dividends are being paid out this week to the paid-up stockholders in the form of checks, and by credit on stock to those holding installment shares. Dividends are paid at the rate of 8 percent from the time of investment to January 1. A check for $2.77 was received by one stockholder who bought a $100 share last summer. Approximately $250 is being paid in interest.

Elmwood is President.

F. L. Clemens is now president of the association. R. H. Jackson is vice-president; J. P. Hammelund, secretary; and George Jacobs, treasurer.

Directors whose terms expire next year are: O. S. Morris, Jackson and Jacobs; 1922, Clemens, Hammelund and Roger C. Cunningham.

CATHOLIC CHOIR HAS ENJOYABLE PARTY.

TAJCEAU IS GIVEN

Junior members of St. Patrick's church choir held their annual New Year party at their music room in St. Joseph's Convent of the Sisters of Mercy, on the afternoon of New Year's day. The studio was artistically decorated by Charles Eler with garlands of the Christmas colors, there being a satisfactory representation of the stable in Bethlehem—the Birth of the Savior.

A program of several selections was given by: Charles Eler, violin, and Aloysius Croft, piano; Daniel McCuskey, first violin; Charles Eler, second violin; and Marie Wilbur, piano; and Ward Donahue, mandolin, and Stanley Ryan, piano.

The game, "Musicians," was played, the winners being awarded books as prizes, as follows: "The Secret Riquet," James Kelley; and "Early Gold," Marie Wilbur.

The program and games were followed by a banquet after which was given the tableaux, "The Shepherd at the Manger," the madonna being impersonated by Marie Wilbur; adoring angels, Mary Gillespie, Mary Ryan and Emily Wilbur; shepherds, Robert Eler, James Kelley, and Aloysius Croft. During the tableaux strains of the "Adagio" were played and as the choir sang "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," the tenors blended with those of the "Angels," which, as though to make the occasion still more impressively, rang out from St. Patrick's church tower.

Members of the alumni and Dean James P. Ryan of St. Patrick's church were among those who attended.

INDICATIONS POINT TO BUILDING BOOM

1921 Starts Off Well—May Beat December Record of $72,000.

Following a record of $72,000 worth of building activity begun here in December, the year 1921 is ushered in with a spirit that points to the ringing of hammers here during the next few months.

Haves & Langdon, building contractors, contemplate the immediate erection of a large storage warehouse at 712 North Bluff street. Permit for the work is held by E. J. Blair, building inspector, calls for a one story frame iron-clad structure, 40 by 70 feet, providing an area of 6,800 square feet of floor.

The Alexander Lumber company, builders of houses and structures of the "knockdown" type, plans extensive activity here the coming spring and summer. A one story frame building is planned by them, to be erected on Paul street. It will be 24 by 36.

A SWEETHEART AT THIRTY

The Story of a Woman's Transformation
BY MARION RUBINCAM

Synopsis of Previous Chapters.
Enda Holmes at 30 looks 50. She is considered the ugliest old maid by her family and the people in her village. Her brother Jim, with whom she lives, his wife Esther, the daughter Laura and son Jim, all think of her as nothing but a queer old woman. Only the youngest, Violet, believes in her. Mark Upjohn, an old beau of her youth, now hunting second wife, comes back. Violet goes to college in the city, and Aunt Edna gives her her own small legacy. She goes to the city to take care of it and there the hopelessly old maid is suddenly awakened to the possibilities of life. Both bloom out like flowers in sunlight. Violet is in love with Bud Pearson, and the affair is not a happy one.

CHAPTER XXXVII

For days after this Violet went about white-faced and quiet. It made my heart ache to see her, or yet, it was something I could do, even sympathize with. So I simply did what I could to divert her mind, and to show her in little ways how much I cared for her. So a word or more passed. Bud did not come and neither of us mentioned his name.
Then one evening he ran in as we were finishing our supper. His face was all aglow with a smile, and he was as far as he was concerned, nothing had happened between himself and Violet.
"I'm to meet Pete at a place up town," he announced. "Want to come, Violet?"
"Yes, I'd love to." At once she jumped up, her dress untouched, and said, "Not now, plenty of time." Bud said, pulling up a chair, "Got any more pudding, Aunt Edna? That looks bully."
"Lots more, I'll get it." Eager to do any least thing to serve him, the girl went out to the little kitchen, and brought him back dessert. I smiled a little to myself—and she had taken our prettiest china recently bought, and put the dessert in that, and then fixed it daintily on a tray with our best dollie under it.

But all this ceremony was lost to Bud, who ate the pudding with the relish of a healthy young boy. Then he pulled out a cigarette case and said, "You ought to serve me a little dinner, you know. It's no more work, and it gives a style to the meal, doesn't it?"
"Don't mess," I said blankly. "On the little cups of black coffee that some people order after dinner. Some of the village restaurants have them, but I never knew they called them that."

"Half cups," Bud translated, in a slightly superior manner. "It's the thing to serve them with dinner." "Let me make you some coffee," a demure Violet was again on her feet. I rose to gather up the dishes. "Please let me," she said as Bud protested, "I love to do things for you."

She came back to the kitchen and made a little strong coffee, taking great pains with it and using a whole precious egg—precious to those who were in her fond all the sweet slowness of a child, and all the love of a grown-up woman. Again I had the little heartache—it was wonderful that she should care so much for me. But it did not matter.

Again I had the little heartache—it was wonderful that she should care so much for me. But it did not matter.

The girl had the lightest blonde hair I had ever seen. I noticed with a feeling of surprise that she made herself a new mouth over her real one by using some sort of red paint, and that her cheeks were so brilliant I could not believe that she was still another sort of paint on her eyelashes to make them long and thick. Besides this she had a carefully shaved off all of her eyebrows and painted thin black lines in their place.

In my unsophistication I kept staring at her, marveling at her artifice. She smiled continually during the evening, lighting one cigarette from the end of another, and her talk was full of slang and cheap witticisms that made both boys laugh a great deal.

"This," I said to myself, "is another phase of life that I have never seen. I must see all this sort of thing while I live in the city. Whether I like it or not, it's a phase of life, and I must know about it."

Pete asked Violet to dance, and Bud and the other girl also went out on the floor. When I came back I found that the girls had been asleep blue that I knew meant something unusual.

"She's mad at me," Pete explained, laughing unashamedly. "She said I did her hair, and she said I let her be too much of a little country girl, you know. A little is becoming, too much is a bore."

Bud did not entirely understand him. But Violet became still more angry. Looking at the dancers, I saw the new girl with one arm far around Bud's shoulders, and her other hand against his as they danced. The eyes of the people seemed to be following in for. And I saw Violet's eyes following them.

Bud paid the check. I could not help but see that it was a large amount—more than we spent all week for our table.

"Now don't be a spoil-sport," Bud whispered as we got up to leave. "I like it here. We're going from here to another place and dance some more."

The girls' eyes were troubled, hurt and angry. I had a feeling of foreboding.

time. Refreshments were served, and a masquerade party will be held next Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mildred Townsend for members of the club.

New Pastor Named.—A social occasion of more than ordinary note was the reception to the new pastor, the Rev. Frank Scribner and his wife, Tuesday evening in the Congregational church, which under the auspices of the Ladies' Board. More than three hundred people attended, many of them members of other churches in the city. The Rev. Mr. Scribner was introduced to the assembly by John M. Whitehead, who claimed that honor, he said, because he had been elected clerk of the church before the new minister was born. In reply the pastor voiced his appreciation of the cordial welcome he had received since his coming to the city, and said that he was looking forward to a career of usefulness in the city.

The Rev. J. A. Melrose extended brief congratulations to the parish on the coming of the new minister, and predicted closer cooperation and increased usefulness in the union religious services of the churches. The Rev. F. P. Lewis, the Rev. Raymond Peterson and the Rev. Webster Miller were also present, but owing to the lateness of the hour, did not speak.

The girls of the class of Mrs. A. C. Preston served light refreshments after the close of the meeting. They were Evelyn Ostreich, Helen Fellows, Dorothy Bolton, Edith Jones, Dorothy Granger, Ruth Moody, Madeline Chaffee, Margaret Spoon, Louise McKnight, Helen Smith, Isabel Stevenson, Margaret Cunningham, and Beulah Ransom.

The church meeting was preceded by an interesting program given under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Rose. A women's chorus consisting of Mrs. J. L. Wilcox, Mrs. S. T. Richards, Miss Irene Lewis and Mrs. Roy Parker sang "The Little Town of Bethlehem" with Mrs. Parker singing the solo, and Mrs. C. E. Rehn playing the violin obbligato. Mrs. Rehn gave a violin solo, "A Vocation Song," and Miss C. A. Rose played the accompaniment. Miss Esther Barker gave a reading and responded with an encore.

Previous to the evening session, supper was served to members of the Ladies' Board, and their husbands or friends in the parlors below, about 150 being present. The officials of the church and trustees, numbering in all about 15, were invited guests. The supper committee was headed by Miss Ida Craig and Mrs. Arthur Fisher. They were assisted by Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, Mrs. O. E. Ostreich, Miss Elizabeth Inman and others. A meeting of the Ladies' Board, held immediately after the supper and presided over by the president, Mrs. J. A. Craig, Miss Frances Ryckman gave a tribute to a departed member, Mrs. David L. Beaton, who had formerly been associated with the band. A basket of flowers, sent as a memorial to her memory by Mrs. H. S. Love, was bestowed by Miss Ryckman on the new pastor and his wife, as a souvenir of the occasion. Miss Ryckman also noted briefly some of the other pastors' wives who had been members and workers in the band—Mrs. S. P. Wilder, Mrs. Martha Dennison, and Mrs. C. E. Ewing, and especially mentioned the mother of the Ladies' Board, Miss Mary Cunningham, still living in California.

DOWN AT THE BOTTOM OF RESULTS.
Enemies of the prohibition law and the thoughtless as well, read of the many violations of the liquor amendment and the arrest of men concerned in this criminal work, without further consideration over that the whole thing is a farce and a failure. It will be noted that the violations are generally by men who have always been on the ragged edge of criminal life—saloon men who have never felt responsibility for law and the gamblers in anything, no matter what the risk, so long as they were able to get the money. These are the men who have entered into the organized forgery, bootlegging and general defiance of law. They have little if anything in common with the great body of our citizenship. The boy and girl who were victims of the saloon, the wine room and the evils that followed are not affected by the crooked millionaire's whiskey trust. The father who, walking home from shop or factory with his week's wages in his clothes, stopped for a drink in the saloon and found himself at midnight, drunk and only a few pieces of change left, is an obsolete character. The fights and disorderly conduct following the saloon drinking are on the decline.

In Fond du Lac county the workhouse has been closed. It was supported by taxpayers to care for the petty cases of violation of ordinances, 95 per cent of which were instigated by whiskey and other drinks sold in saloons. There is no reason to be discouraged over results of the prohibition laws. We have hundreds of workmen out of jobs, able to care for themselves, who had their beer given the saloon in the past months, would have nothing. Temptation to spend money, being a "good fellow" and raising Cain generally kept the dollars from the children. The kids get it now and the home is the winner.

All the rotten and reeking cussedness of the law violators, criminal in instinct and act, cannot change that condition with "White Mule," "Wine of Pepsin, Moonshine, illicitly released whiskey—or home brew.

GAMBLING AND BLINDNESS.
No cognizance of gambling is taken in Janesville.

It goes on in many places unchecked and under the noses of officers who have a duty in protecting the people against this crime.

Not the slightest effort is made to stop organized gambling of any kind.

You can get a game in several places and lose as much money as you have in your pocket and the house takes the price paid at the "corner."

Wisconsin has provided a large volume of statutes in which penalties are all set forth for this violation and the duties of officials are well defined.

It might be a good afternoon's pastime to read that sheep bound tome.

TRAIN SERVICE WEST.
There is great room for improvement in the train service on the Milwaukee road into that territory which likes to know Janesville as its own—the section to the west of us. It has always been poor service and needs reform now more than ever. We have better service on the Milwaukee road to and from Milwaukee as a result of the efforts of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce acting in conjunction with other organizations. Included in the original appeal to the roads for trains and time in keeping with the importance of the section served, and the position of Janesville as an outlet and a place for transfers of passengers, the Mineral Point division was given much attention. Is it not time to make another effort to get something approaching real service? Apparently the railroad awakened to a real demand backed up by some emphatic representations, and certainly necessary for that demand is found in the archaic train schedule itself on the west division.

It is something to wonder at, also, where all the old Civil War time equipment used on the trains to Milwaukee came from.

TWO PICTURES ON THE SAME PAGE.
The Minneapolis Tribune carries a picture in its retrospective section of a Berlin Veterinary hospital and under it is "The Berlin Veterinary college has begun a campaign to improve the health of household pets by giving treatment free. The photo shows a line of patients waiting outside the hospital to be treated." On the same page of the paper is the picture of faces of many thousands starving German children, and under the picture is this: "Berlin children by the thousands waiting in front of an American relief station for their mid-day meal of soup, which is hot, thick and meaty, furnishing much more nourishment than that to which they are accustomed." It will be noted that the German money is being paid out to care for the household pets—dogs, cats and goats—while true to the American ideal, the "household pets" of America, the children in Germany, are being fed by Americans on American food. Gazette readers may write, as "B. L. T." says, their own headlines.

A Club for Artists' Models
By FREDERICK J. HASKIN
New York City, Jan. 5.—To have the artist's model taken seriously is the purpose of an interesting club which has its headquarters in an old-fashioned house on West Fifth-street here. Pass this house at any hour during the day, and if you are lucky, you are apt to see its ancient door creak open and the original of your favorite magazine cover girl trip sedately down the steps for the house is usually full of them. It has about 150 such enchanting damsels on its membership list.
But they are to be taken seriously. Don't forget that.
The other day, a Broadway Don Juan, bewitched at the sight of his favorite bathing girl actually walking down Seventh Avenue—not in a bathing suit, you understand, but recognizable nevertheless—proceeded to accost her at a discreet distance, she turned down Fifth-street.
When she left the pavement and ran up a pair of steps, he stopped in his tracks and stared in deep preoccupation at the door where she had vanished. Suddenly, the door opened a second time, and a grey-haired, sweet-faced matron came out.
"Young man, what do you mean by following one of our girls?" demanded the lady quietly but firmly.
"Now suppose you just run along back to Broadway where you belong. The girls in this club are nice, quiet, refined girls, and they don't want to be annoyed, and furthermore, we are not going to have a lot of idle, gawping men standing out here in front of our house."
Thus did the secretary of the club, as she later explained to the reporter, nip in the bud a movement on the part of the male population of New York to give the club its enthusiastic endorsement.
"The attitude of the public, especially the masculine public, toward the artist's model," said the secretary sadly, "is much the same as it is toward the chorus girl—entirely frivolous. It is also incurably romantic. People seem to have an idea that an artist's model is a gay young thing, who earns an easy, if not luxurious, living by posing for fascinating artists with long hair, or Oriental faces, if they have bold heads. Now, as a matter of fact, posing is hard work, and until recently the average artist's model has been poorly paid and has given about as much consideration as a table or chair."
Here the telephone on the secretary's desk buzzed noisily into her confidences, and she grabbed a notebook and pen.
"Excuse me just a minute," she said, taking up the instrument. "Yes, I think we have just the girl you need—Miss B. L. T. I don't know her name, but I don't believe we have anybody plumper. We consider her one of the plumpest girls we have. About 150 pounds, I should say, but tall and well-proportioned. Yes, I think you might be able to use her face too. She's a good Spanish type. Well, she lives right up in your neighborhood—suppose I have her come in and see you anyway. If she doesn't suit, perhaps we can get you some one else. Miss M., whom you had before, will be back from Havana this Friday."
The secretary then explained that the club runs an employment bureau for its members, who are all registered and classified by types. Posing is somewhat like private nursing; a girl never knows how long her job is going to last or how much money it is going to pay her. Some artists take a long time to complete their work, and others work very fast. Some can afford to pay a high rate for a model, and others can scarcely afford to employ one at all. But the conditions in this respect are better for posers than they have ever been before, thanks to the persistent mercenary efforts of the club. A good model can now demand and collect a dollar an hour for her work, at which rate some of them make as much as eight dollars a day.
Beside its employment bureau, the Art Workers' Club, as it is called, operates a restaurant on the first floor of the house, which serves excellent meals at cost, while five o'clock tea is served every afternoon absolutely free. To this artists as well as models are invited, since, as the secretary explained, "the chief object of the club is to bring the two factions together for the promotion of a better understanding."
Thus, on a rainy afternoon, the big clubroom is filled with models draped about the furniture in graceful attitudes, while they chat and drink tea with sociably-inclined artists. The room, with its artistic draperies and comfortable couches and easy chairs, looks more like a drawing-room than a clubroom, and the casual stranger would never guess from the frivolous repartee and engaging manner of its guests that serious business was being transacted. Yet it is at the heart of these that many New York artists find their various types of models.
On the third floor of its large, old-fashioned home, the club maintains a costume department, which contains costumes of every period and nationality. These are often rented at a nominal fee with the model. For instance, while the reporter was visiting the club the other day, a wealthy artist, who lives in a suburb of New York, came in and told the secretary he was in search of a Dutch type in a Dutch costume of the kind worn by a certain group of peasants living on an island in the Zuider Zee. The artist was told to go up to the clubroom and make himself at home while the secretary found him a model. In a remarkably short time, a flaxen-haired girl, with broad cheek bones and a robust figure came in from the front door in answer to the secretary's telephone summons. She was rushed up to the third floor to be fitted for the said peasant costume. The same afternoon she was out at the artist's suburban studio, ready to take her pose.
Once, every February, the club has a Model's Review, which is considered one of the most important events in artistic circles. To this review all of the known artists in the city are invited. The clubroom is turned into a small auditorium, with rows of chairs to accommodate a large-sized artist audience, while in the center of the room is an elevated platform for the exhibition of the models. The girls appear in the most beautiful costumes that the costume department is capable of turning out—costumes representing everything from the early Greek and the Italian Renaissance periods to the latest frock and chapeau coming from one of the Paris Maisons. By reviewing these models, the artist either gets the inspiration of his life, so we are told, while the model gets a well-paid job demand are beautiful, but all of them are so distinctive. Types are what the artist wants—not necessarily pretty faces. This year girls of the Spanish type are much in demand, while last year there seemed to be a general preference for French girls. A few of the models, who are kept very busy posing for mural decorations and character poses, are middle-aged and grey-haired, but as a rule the life of the average model is only too short.

Who's Who Today
SEN. JOSEPH I. FRANCE.
SENATOR JOSEPH I. FRANCE of Maryland stepped into prominence in the discussion of the deportation of Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Russian soviet ambassador, by objecting to the government's position on the ground that the United States will suffer a huge loss in foreign trade if the ambassador is forced to leave the country. He was ordered him to cancel millions of dollars worth of orders for all kinds of supplies, machinery, etc., for which Russia had contracted in this country. Since the deportation order stand, Senator France went to the national republican convention in summer at Maryland's favorite spot. He went also as the friend of light wines and beer. A declaration for reconsideration of the prohibition amendment was one of the planks in his platform.

In the senate, the senator from Maryland has been one of the irreconcilable opponents of the peace treaty.
Joseph I. France was born October 11, 1873. He was educated in Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y.; University of Leipzig, Germany; Clark University, Worcester, Mass.; and College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore.
He served in the Maryland legislature, 1900-'08; was delegate to the republican national convention of 1908; elected to United States senate in 1915.

Ventures in Common Sense
By ED. HOWE, of Atchison.
The hypocrisy in sentiment generally, is as nothing compared with the hypocrisy men display about their jobs. You have there a man who did not contend he knew his trade better than the foreman? Was there ever a man who was satisfied with his wages? The man who receives ten dollars a day is as dissatisfied, as greatly wronged, as much of a slave, as the man who gets but five, and talks as bitterly about economic injustice. And after the workman becomes an employer, his hypocrisy slips to the opposite field of activity: he declares that when he was a workman, he was not content with the clock and grumbling about his pay. He also enlarges his field of hypocrisy: if he is making only five thousand dollars a year, he says that but for unjust laws he would be making ten or fifteen thousand; his talents making him a millionaire. But when he finally enjoys the larger income (as he often does, because of residence in a country of great opportunity and liberty), he still abuses his rivals who have greater ability, greater virtue or greater industry. When a man talks of liberty, the rights of man, democracy, etc., he is really talking about his job; and when he talks about that, I wouldn't believe him under oath.

Man is still a savage to the extent that he has little respect for anything that cannot hurt him.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO
Jan. 5, 1881.—At the annual meeting of the Congressional church society held last evening, James A. Buchanan, A. T. Stickney, Z. S. Woodruff, J. A. Dennison and J. L. Ford were elected trustees to fill the vacancies caused during the year. The report of the treasurer showed that the finances of the organization were in good shape.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Jan. 5, 1890.—Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Jan. 5, 1901.—A large number of citizens of the city who paid money for the burning factory which was to have come here, are wondering where the promoters are. It is said that one of them is sick and the other has left for the East, so that nothing can be found out about their plans. They agreed to locate here if citizens could raise the required amount.

TEN YEARS AGO
Jan. 5, 1911.—A lengthy discussion of the resolution pending for establishing a school to train teachers in the county, occupied the session of the county board today. Simon Smith, Bloom, is the main mover for the idea, stating that it would not cost the county more than $500, two-thirds of the expense being paid by the state.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST.
THE WEARY ORATOR.
As I went down the busy street, a sad faced man I chanced to meet.
His cheek was pale, his eye was dim, and yet the gleam of his forehead—of wit the very prince and lord.
With many a merry quip he'd set the table on a roar.
"Good friend," quoth I, "you look so sad; have you heard dreadful news and bad? Why do you hang your head and sigh? Are you beset or grieved?"
"Oh, harken to my tale," said he, "I'll tell you what's wrong with me—
"I'm overfed on guinea hen and stuffed with larded beef!"
"That sounds like bully food to me," I answered him, "nor can I see why one so fortunate as you, should be so plainly ill."
Said he, "Don't talk as other men, who think the breast of guinea hen.
A reason why unto their feast I should be glad to come.
"I've banqueted until I'm sick of larded beef and milk-fed chicks.
And thousand island dressing on a salad I despise;
When grinning strangers come and tell that for a spoon they'll feed me well.
They may not know it, but right then my gorge begins to rise.
"The food I really crave the most is mother's nicely salted toast.
A plate of beans which she has cooked would be exactly right.
It's got so that I fairly hate the phrase, 'It's costing five a plate.'
But when the use of 'I've got to face more guinea hen tonight!'

Q. Is the use of the word "chicken" making a young girl regarded as modern slang? A. M. P.
A. This use of the word is so regarded, but dictionaries recognize its use as meaning "young or youthful" and inexperienced person, a child; also a timid person. At any rate the expression is so old that Jonathan Swift used it.
Q. What qualifications are necessary to become a mail plane pilot? J. J. M.
A. The Post Office Department says that only experienced aviators are considered for such positions.
Q. Are earthquakes rained in the United States? H. O. D.
A. Earthquakes are raised on a small scale in the southwestern part of this country.
Q. Are pineapples grown from seed? C. W.
A. Pineapples rarely produce seed. HOROSCOPE
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1921.
This is an important day in planetary direction, according to astrology. Mars and Uranus rule strongly in this day.
It is well to pursue routine affairs while this rule of the stars continues, avoiding initiative or change that will disturb the regular order of business.
There is a menacing sign for travel, whether by land, water or air and the way is especially unpropitious for journey connected with business relating to iron, steel or coal.
Mars seems to give warning of an outbreak of force that may result in troops. Military matters are subject to upheavals and movement that may be unsatisfactory to army officers.
—and mining continues subject to sinister forces that affect both the west and the east, but there will be a sudden change that is beneficial in the third new moon.
Warning is given that there will be a continued prevalence of crime in which deception plays a part. Embezzlement and forgery will increase if it is profited.

Personal Health Service
By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
BEWARE THE DEADLY SCALD.
You venture unmasked within the five-foot bar, are of any individual who has a respiratory infection or who is developing such an illness or indisposition or who has recently had such an illness and still, perhaps, harbors the germs thereof. That is the common everyday way in which are spread our common everyday illnesses, and especially so-called "colds."
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
The Ipsosm Salts Delusion.
Do iposm salts help one to reduce? How much should be taken in order to lose ten pounds? If it is not good, please recommend some other medicine that will reduce, as I cannot diet. (Mrs. C. M. L.)
ANSWER—Ipsosm salts will not reduce, unless by ruining health. If you really cannot diet, then you certainly would not dare take any medicine alleged to reduce, unless under the personal direction of your physician.
Children's Teeth.
Is it advisable to give the teeth of a two-year-old child a daily brushing? What should be used? (C. H.)
ANSWER—Yes. Use a very soft brush, and a little plain soap (without scent or flavor or medication) on the moist brush.
"I am attending college this year, and after swimming an hour a day and taking other regular exercise, I find I require ten hours' sleep in order to feel in proper condition for studying. Although I've had perfect health all my life, I am told this is a sign of bad health. What do you think about it?" (M. W.)
ANSWER—It is a sign and a factor of good health. Young people seldom get more sleep than they require. Young women would get more sleep if they knew how much sleep helps the complexion. You stick to your ten-hour schedule another ten years and let the gossip who thinks it's a bad sign do all the worrying.
Dr. Brady will answer all signs of letters pertaining to health. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column. All other letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address: Dr. Wm. Brady, Gazette.

It is attracting attention in the county and hundreds come to view it. Many side shows and circuses have offered Mr. Shady large sums of money for the animal.

WOODWORTH HEADS AMERICAN LEGION

Sixty Attend Annual Banquet at "Y." Most Rousing in Post's History.

Dr. Leigh J. Woodworth, one of the few World war veterans to recover from wounds so serious as to bring him home, was elected as the 1921 commander of the American Legion. The election came as the wind-up of the most rousing rally in the brief history of the service men's organization, which, with its 250 members is indicative of better and more prosperous days ahead.

Other post officers elected at the meeting, held in the Y. M. C. A. dining room, were:

Vice-commander—Ralph Kampas.
Adjutant—W. T. Clark.
Finance officer—Robert Conway.
Master-at-arms—Matt. Flock.
Historian—Frank Sinclair.
Chaplain—Louis Shon.
Quartermaster—Theodore Corrado.

Italian Gives Talk

Newly elected officers made speeches of acceptance in which they promised to do their best for the legion. The Italian gave a most interesting talk, in which he related the story of the army corps which did not serve, a short program was given. This consisted of an interesting talk by Ernest Meyer in the Italian language, a group of popular songs by the new legion quartet made up of Aron Poma, Edmund Leary, George Starnes, and Harry Jones and a recitation of the 1920 accomplishments given by Mr. Cunningham. Walter MacFarland played accompaniment for the musical part of the post program.

Promises United States

Pride for America, its ideals and its institutions, was given by Mr. Moriarty in his address. He lauded the legion for its patriotic work and dwelt on the need for instilling Americanism into the school children. He also related the story of the Italian fighter, who went on to explain the Plume situation giving the explanation in a clear and simple manner. A constitution and by-laws were unanimously adopted following passage of an amendment to make the regular meeting night, the second Tuesday of each month instead of the first as in the past. It was decided to continue the present rate of dues, 25 cents per month, and to give an additional 25 cents to the state for the national organization and 25 cents to the state. It is possible the legion may vote at a later date to give an additional 25 cents to the state.

Delegates Are Named

It was voted to send either Commander Woodworth or Adjutant Clark to a big legion meeting in Marshfield the latter part of the month. Continuing as a matter of course, the executive committee, the retiring commander, Mr. Cunningham, announced that he has been asked to talk at a legion meeting in Whitewater tonight and in Sharon later this month. As a member of this committee, he has supervision over all the posts in the First congressional district.

Legion Growing Fast

"The legion is only a baby," declared Mr. Cunningham in his farewell speech. "But it's growing and it's growing fast. It is precisely the only organization giving full help to disabled service men. If the wounded man's comrades won't look out for him, no one else will." He reviewed briefly the 1920 activities—Legion participation in the Armistice and Memorial day observances and military funerals, earning 25 service men credit in hospital, conducting athletics at the Community picnic, bringing the Legion course here and the Million Dollar band, which appeared in Labor day. He advised members to make reservations early for the Lenox banquet and that to be given General Leonard Wood, the latter part of the month.

Was Football Star

The new commander of the Richard Hills post is a veteran of many months overseas, having left his position as a dentist to become a first lieutenant. He was a star on the old Janesville high school football eleven and later played four successive years with the Marquette university gridiron team. Since his discharge from Fort Sheridan hospital last August he has served as city sanitary inspector. He was married recently to Miss Verelina Rowley.

COLDS PREVAIL THROUGHOUT CITY

There is an epidemic of colds in Janesville, especially among school children, according to information furnished today by Dr. Fred L. Welch, city health officer. There are also eight cases of mumps among children.

"You see children out wading and paddling around in water puddles," said Dr. Welch. "That is the cause of colds, having such hard colds. The warm weather has caused people to wear less clothes than is really healthy, for the moment it is a bit cold, the change to the apparel, I should say, shoes are causing the majority of colds among children."

YOUTH-ARRESTED FOR BAD CHECKS

NEWSPRINT PAPER GOES UP AGAIN; ONE THIRD HIGHER

Customers of the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company located at International Falls, Minn., manufacturers of newsprint paper, the mill from which the Gazette secures its supply, were called into conference in Chicago on December 28, and the price which will be charged for stock the first six months of 1921 was fixed at 6 1/2¢ per lb. at the mill, whereas the rate under contract during the past year had been $4.50 per one hundred pounds, at the mill. This is an advance of 33 1/3 per cent over the rate for 1920, with a freight rate of 27¢ per hundred pounds, an advance of thirty-five per cent since September 1, 1920. The publishers were pleased with the fact that they were able to secure a reduction of forty cents per hundred on their contract for the first six months, and this item was included in the make up of the rate covered by the ten year contract last October concluded with the M. & O. Paper Co.

Among the prominent publishers of papers present were Governor Henry Allen of the Wisconsin, Kansas, Benon, Lafayette Young, Junior of the Wisconsin, and Mr. J. C. Brown of the St. Louis Star, E. R. Smith, representing Senator Arthur Capper's Publications, of Topeka, Kansas, H. V. Jones, Minneapolis Journal, Max Baer, of the Chicago Tribune, Kansas Eagle, E. P. Adler, Dayton, La. Times, and president of the Lee Syndicate newspapers.

SOCIALISTS ARE TOO SOCIALISTIC FOR SOCIALIST MAYOR

[An Associated Press.]

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 5.—Dr. C. L. Davenport, mayor of Davenport, elected on the socialist ticket a year ago, today announced his resignation from the party. Local social issues prompted this action, he said.

In an interview, the mayor said: "My leaving the socialist party is the best thing I have ever done. I've been trying to get along with the radical element in the council, but it is no longer possible. I have no cooperation from the socialist element in the council work and they have permitted their radical ideas to interfere with the welfare of the city."

The council was held this afternoon from the residence with Pastor C. J. Muller, St. Peter's church, officiating. Interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

ALL-STARS TO TRY LUCK IN ILLINOIS

With a record of five straight victories, the All-Stars basketball five will invade Woodstock, Saturday night, to meet the strong American Legion team of that city. They will be without the services of Captain Fred Gruesz, who is in Milwaukee, but nevertheless are looking for the sixth victory.

The following players will make the trip: Dick, Hager, Fuchelman, Cullen, Graf, Anderson, Schilling, "Pop" Gruesz, and Driscoll. Hager has practically recovered from his illness and assures his mates he will be in uniform for the contest.

Boast Winning Record
Although they have met several strong teams this season, the Stars believe none of them is in the same class with Woodstock. The Illinois team, managed by George E. Sullivan, is reported to win 21 out of 22 games last year. This season they have won four tilts, one of which was with the Morris Athletic club, Chicago. Woodstock won 44 to 24, and is now willing to meet all comers.

Holt Special Meeting
To complete arrangements for the Illinois trip and to plan other games, a special meeting of the All-Stars Athletic club has been called for 7:30 Thursday evening at the home of the president, "Ted" Hager, 533 Locust street.

Because so many teams are asking for games it is probable the schedule will be changed. Fond du Lac has cancelled both of its games for Jan. 11 and 15. Another attempt will be made to bring the Brooklyn Tigers here—the team that trimmed the Stars while away. An attempt will be made to play two games with the new one.

Many Games Scheduled
Games are now scheduled with Orlanville and Delavan high schools, Delavan and Dunn's team, Delavan, Juba, Hebron, Fulton, Burlington, Woodstock, Beloit, and Rockford.

They are expected to enter the 140-pound tournament to be held in Chicago in the near future.

NEW OUTLAW LEAGUE FORMED IN BOSTON

Boston, Jan. 5.—The Continental Baseball League, which was organized by its promoters, will put baseball teams into several major league cities, held its first meeting yesterday and elected Andrew F. Lawson of this city president.

Franchises were assigned by states as follows: Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and possibly the province of Ontario, with a team at Toronto.

Mr. Lawson announced that it had been agreed to have no salary limit and that "in the event of the Red Sox not accepting the offer to sell, a park would be built in Boston."

DEMPSEY IS SUED FOR $300 BY NEGRO

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 5.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight pugilist, was made defendant in the District court in an action filed by J. F. Burns, a negro, in which it is alleged that Dempsey has failed to pay Burns for special services performed between Jan. 10 and March 15, 1920, amounting to $700.

It also is alleged that Burns loaned Dempsey $3,500 between those same dates, and a third allegation is that the plaintiff provided the pugilist with automobile and taxicab service during those dates to the value of $500, for which he says he had received no compensation.

Where Dempsey Fought Is No N. G. Drill Ground

Toledo, O.—Bayview park, where more than 25,000 persons gathered a year ago last July to see the championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Jack Johnson, will June 27 to July 2 be the drill field for the national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose. Sixty marching teams and 50 bands are expected to camp in that park. All told 30,000 visitors are expected to be connected with the convention, and to provide sleeping quarters all of the schools of the city are to be thrown open and a temporary tent city is to be sent to private homes.

Frisco Cue Shark Wins Second Block of Match

WHILE YOU'RE TALKING

Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, now serving time in Leavenworth penitentiary for violating the country's social laws, is also talking about doing a comeback in the ring when he gets out. Now is the time to nip Johnson's plans in the bud. The boxing game is better off without him. The game is fighting hard enough for existence as it is.

Johnson proved himself a disgrace to sport in general and boxing in particular. He abused the worship of sport bestowed upon him when he won the title from Jim Jeffries. He abused privileges which the fortune of the American public gave him. He showed an utter disrespect for civil and social laws.

The fact that he is a negro is not a contributory cause of the feeling against Johnson's proposed comeback. The black race ought to resent it as much as the white folk. Johnson, because of his fame as the champion fighter of the world had a wonderful opportunity to aid his own people in their fight for education and enlightenment. The hundreds of thousands of dollars he squandered could have aided worthy institutions of his race. He could have won the attention of national leaders to his people's problem had he so desired.

He made the sporting public turn from a race that produced fighters like George Dixon, athletes like Howard Hughes, and other clean, decent sport.

There isn't one reason why the public should allow Johnson to make an easy living or gain desired publicity again at the expense of the boxing game or other branch of clean, decent sport.

HORNSBY IS LEADING BATTER IN NATIONAL

Roger Hornsby, who was seen on the St. Louis Cardinals last summer, led the National League batters last season. He swung a wicked bunt for an average of .370, taking part in 149 games and making 14 hits.

Of the 45 champion National League batters only 10 finished with a higher average than the St. Louis second baseman. Hughie Duffey turned in the highest when in 1914 he batted .438 for the season.

George Burns, New York outfielder, leads in runs, scores with 115. Jimmy Sheppard, famous outfielder on the old Cubs, scored 100 runs.

At Pittsburgh, who also played in Janesville last year, leads in slugging bases, piling 32 during the season.

The St. Louis Cardinals led in hitting the club average being .289 and the Giants lead in scoring with 632 runs.

HOWLING DOG LEADS AIRMEN TO SAFETY

death in a raging storm high in the air and they were too exhausted to do much but congratulate themselves upon their safe landing.

They had been drenched to the skin and icicles hung over their torn clothing. For four days they wandered aimlessly in the wilderness and were despairing when they were discovered by a frightened Indian trapper. George McClelland, the Indian mail carrier who brought news of the men's landing to the outside world, said their first desire was to notify their wives and relatives of their safety.

Nearly Met Their Fate.
George McClelland, who has been hitting the trail between Moose Factory and Mattice for 17 years, said today that the balloon drifted 10 miles further north they would not have lived to tell the story. More than one hungry trapper has met his fate in that desolate region rarely ever trod by human beings, he said.

Torned by Raging Gale.
Before attempting a descent, the balloonists told McClelland, they socked away for 8 hours to find a safe place. They were tossed by a raging gale, reaching a velocity of 70 miles an hour.

They decided to chance it when they heard the howling dogs and as they descended Parrell spied a smokestack in the distance. It disappeared from view as they struck the street tops, and when they crawled from the balloon there was no sign of a habitation.

Frightened Aged Indian.
They at last made camp for the night and waited for daylight. With renewed spirits they set out in the morning in a southerly direction until they again saw the smokestack in the distance. Making for it they met

U. S. PROBES FUNDS OF CAMELS' ORDER

The order of Camels which came into existence to fight the Volstead act and the Eighteenth amendment is the center of some attention from the post office department. Postal inspectors are looking for the men who collected the fees. There seems to have been some oversight about turning in the money.

A lodge of Camels was started here by some organizer but it never entered as a factor into politics. The Camels were the accredited backers of the candidacy of McHenry for U. S. Senator.

CHURCHES OBSERVE EPIPHANY FESTIVAL
Special services in Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches tomorrow will celebrate the Epiphany, a festival which is celebrated on January 6, twelve days after the birth of Christ to commemorate the manifestation of Christ to the Magi, who had been guided by a star.

In the fourth century, the Eastern church celebrated the birth and baptism of Christ on Jan. 6, and about the same period the Western church observed the feast of the Nativity on December 25. In the sixth century, the Western custom had spread to the east and the east to the west, consequently December 25 was universally observed as the day of the Nativity, and the feast of January 6, twelve days after was retained as the Epiphany and is so celebrated now.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE
Dear Sir: I read with more than passing interest your editorial in last evening's issue relative to the possible mutilation of one of the beauty spots in this section. I refer to the road through the quarry on the Edgerton road. For a generation this has been one of the show spots around Janesville and the drive up the east side of the river and across the four mile bridge returning by the west side has been one of the most popular drives and in my judgment it would be criminal to mutilate it as has been suggested by attempting to straighten this strip of road. I have lived in Janesville practically all my life and I have never heard of an accident in that section because of those curves.

There is no call for a concrete road through this short strip as the bottom is all rock anyway and with minor improvements an ideal road could be made. When we see in other sections of the country the amount of money spent to preserve these beauty spots, we surely here should protest vigorously against money being spent to destroy this one.

I feel sure that if the citizens here were sufficiently aroused the matter might be taken up with the proper authorities and this bit of natural beauty preserved for all time.
